TSUDA UNIVERSITY

Admission Policy

Students Sought by Tsuda University and the Philosophy of Tsuda University

Tsuda University seeks to foster “all-round women” who combine deep intelligence with well-rounded personalities, and who have the self-reliance necessary to contribute to society. Since its foundation, Tsuda University has cultivated women who demonstrate leadership with analytical insights and practical skills backed up by solid, wide-ranging knowledge. We are looking for students who sympathize with our founding philosophy, take an interest in various world issues, and are willing to learn with enthusiasm.

College of Policy Studies

Department of Policy Studies

The Department of Policy Studies, the College of Policy Studies at Tsuda University seek to nurture women who will work to resolve issues facing contemporary society, and who can take leadership positions to produce a better social structure. Of particular importance is to have awareness of various aspects of society and to enhance analytical skills to accurately identify where problems are located and where challenges must be overcome. Equally necessary will be to have thinking power to explore realistic, evidence-based solutions to these problems, as well as enough energy to take the initiative in providing proactive solutions. Finally, practical English skills and strong communication ability will be required to form a consensus with others and develop broadly accepted guidelines for policy implementation. To foster these skills, the Department of Policy Studies, the College of Policy Studies is looking for students with the eagerness and academic skills described below.

- Interest in various issues facing contemporary society and an eagerness to solve them
- Lively intellectual curiosity and energy
- Strong will to continue learning proactively and enhance one’s own skills
- The ability to think logically and express oneself
- Basic vocabulary and grammatical ability to listen, speak, read, and write in English, and English communication skills based on this knowledge
- Historical, geographical, and cultural knowledge necessary to understand the characteristics of the society and era in which we live
- Mathematical thinking skills that underpin the analysis of data

[How to carry out the second-round selection] * Conducted online.

- The second-round selection will be done online.
- A preparatory communications test will be conducted in advance of the day of examination to check the communication environment.

Communications Test Date

October 22 (Saturday), 2022

- Please be sure to join the communications test. Details such as the specific time will be announced individually.
- Please join the communications test in the same environment (room, communication method, equipment, etc.) as on the day of the examination.
- Please follow the "Guidelines for Taking Examinations (including Communications Test)" described below.

Examination date

October 29 (Saturday), 2022

Selection Method (Comprehensive judgment based on the interview and submitted documents)

Interview: You will be interviewed about the content of your preliminary essay and, based on your statement of purpose, about your hopes, concerns, and aspirations for the future.

Guidelines for Taking Examinations (including Communications Test)

1. The web conferencing system "Zoom" will be used both on the day of the communications test and on the day of the examination.
2. Please ensure you have access to the Internet for videoconferencing. Please make sure you perform a communications test beforehand to ensure that this works reliably.
3. Details of the date and time of the communications test, the examination timetable, and the way of connecting to "Zoom" will be provided to you.
4. Please prepare the equipment needed for videoconferencing yourself—a device equipped with a web camera and microphone. Use of a PC with earphones or headphones is recommended.
5. If you use mobile communication, please check your phone plan and data communication usage in advance so that the video call will not be interrupted during the communications test and the examination due to reaching the data cap.
6. Please sit the examination in a private room and ensure that nobody else is in the same room.
7. Please use the same room, communication method, and equipment, etc., for both the examination and the communications test conducted beforehand. In the event that you cannot take the examination in the same environment, please contact the Office of Admissions (E-mail: nyushi@tsuda.ac.jp) as early as possible.
8. In the event of an interruption to communications or other such problem, telephone contact may be made. In your application form, please provide a telephone number where you can be contacted during the communications test and examination.
9. To ensure that the examination is conducted fairly, the university will make video recordings on the dates of the communications test and examination. (This recording will only be used for the purpose of checking the examination and not for any other purpose.) Furthermore, taking any kind of still image, making an audio recording, or video recording, or streaming by the examinee is prohibited. Making posts on social media regarding the test contents is also prohibited.
10. Please follow all instructions given by the supervisor during the examination.
11. In the event that communication failure not attributable to the examinee occurs on the day of the examination and the continuation becomes impossible, the examination may be postponed until later on the day or moved back a day (to the day after the original examination day).

Action for Conducting the Entrance Examination

Please understand that the following actions may be taken when conducting the entrance examination.

1. Incidents due to force majeure
In the case of natural disasters such as blizzards, earthquake, tsunami, typhoons, or flooding; or fires, power failures, the outbreak of infectious diseases such as new-type influenza, or other incidents due to force majeure, action such as moving back the start times of the examinations or delaying the examinations may be taken. (If the examination start times are moved back, the final end time will also be changed, and the break times may be adjusted to ensure enough time for the examinations in case of the examination with break times.) However, note that Tsuda University takes no responsibility for any resultant costs or personal damage.

2. Contacting examinees

In principle, examinees will be contacted regarding actions taken as described in 1. above via the Tsuda university website. <https://www.tsuda.ac.jp/>

3. Supplementary examinations, etc.

Please pay attention to your personal health on the day of the examination. There will be no opportunity to sit a supplementary examination nor will the entrance examination fee be reimbursed.

4. Other cautions

If Tsuda University judges that the entrance examination or results announcement cannot take place on the scheduled date due to unforeseen reasons, such actions may be delayed. Please note that in principle, Tsuda University is not responsible for any resultant personal damage to examinees.

Prohibited Behavior

Please follow all instructions of the supervisor when taking the examination. The following shall be considered to be prohibited behavior.

- 1) Forgeries, false statements or plagiarism found in documents or other materials submitted to Tsuda University during application
- 2) A person other than the examinee pretends to be the examinee and takes the examination
- 3) Any other behavior that impairs the fairness of the examination

If prohibited behavior is discovered, the examinee will be banned from taking any other examinations at Tsuda University and the results of all entrance examinations taken that year will be invalidated. Furthermore, there shall be no reimbursement of entrance examination fees.

Results Announcement

November 8 (Tuesday), 2022

Applicants will be notified of the examination results by express mail. Applicants who passed the examination will be sent the results notification card and the enrollment registration documents.

We will try to send the results to arrive on the results announcement date, but they may arrive the next day.

Enrollment Registration

November 21 (Monday), 2022 (documents must be postmarked by this date)

Please transfer the admission fee (amount equivalent to the enrollment fee), academic fees and any other fee, and mail the enrollment registration documents by the deadline above.

Cautions for enrollment registration

1. Please note that enrollment will not be accepted after the deadline for enrollment registration.
2. If we receive notification before March 31 (Friday), 2023 (must be received by this date) that the student has decided not to enroll, the academic fees (tuition and facilities and equipment fees) and other fees will be reimbursed, while the admission fee will not be reimbursed.

Academic Fees and Other Fees (Provisional)

The enrollment fee, academic fees (tuition and facilities and equipment fees), and other fees for newly enrolled students in the 2023 academic year will be determined in early October.

Other fees

(1) Disaster and Accident Insurance for Student Education and Research

The Disaster and Accident Insurance for Student Education and Research (including liability insurance) must be paid in the first year only. The fee is 4,010 yen and the insurance covers four years. All students must enroll in this insurance, which covers injuries sustained while at or commuting to the university or during extracurricular activities, as well as damages incurred during practice teaching, curricular internships or fieldwork. Note also that Comprehensive Insurance for Students' Lives Coupled with Gakkensai is also optionally available.

(2) Tsuda University Alumnae Association Deposit

The Tsuda University Alumnae Association Deposit is 50,000 yen (for lifetime membership). The deposit is paid in the first year and the resulting interest is used for scholarships.

Tuition reduction and exemption measures for international students studying at personal expense

In the case of international students enrolled at personal expense in one of our regular courses, if they apply in the specified manner and are approved, half of their tuition for the academic year for which they applied will be waived. However, students must meet certain conditions, such as having the required residence status (including cases where the status has changed from e.g. Dependent to Student during the academic year) specified in Appended Table I of the Immigration Control and Refugee Recognition Act. There are also financial conditions, such as students receiving 90,000 yen or less per month from their home country, and income from supporters in Japan of 5,000,000 yen or less per year. To apply, please submit the application documents to the Finance Division by the designated date that will be announced after enrollment.

Scholarships for International Students (as of the 2021 academic year)

Off-campus scholarships for which students can apply at the recommendation of Tsuda University include the following:

- The Heiwa Nakajima Foundation Scholarship for Foreign Students in Japan
- The Kyoritsu International Foundation Scholarship
- The Hasegawa International Scholarship Foundation
- The Rotary Yoneyama Memorial Foundation, etc.

* Another program in addition to the above is a “Reservation Program for Monbukagakusho Honors Scholarship for Privately-Financed International Students (for examinees who achieve a superior score on the EJU).” This scholarship is for privately financed students who have achieved a superior score in the Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU) and are planning on newly enrolling as a regular undergraduate student at university or college in Japan (graduate students are not covered). For details on this scholarship, please refer to the website of the Japan Student Services Organization.
